

Buller's Moose Cornyels

About Silks.

Talk is cheap—until you begin to put it into print in the newspaper.

About the easiest thing there is to do—is to say—of this or that thing that "it is the best for the money" or that the stock is "the biggest."

Do you believe all you read about silks—or about dress goods?

After all when you've looked around here in your own town, and then go to the Big Store in Kansas City don't you find that right there is where the best Silk and Dress Goods' business is being done of any place because it is to the interest of buyers to do it there?

Why shouldn't it be? We take from the manufacturers far more goods at a purchase than any other store in this part of the country. That means about the lowest possible prices.

We have purchased an unusually large lot of Black Silks with which to hold here in this city the Biggest Black Silk Sale ever before known.

If you have any notion of buying a black silk dress this year, better get on the train and go to Kansas City at once; don't stop until you have gotten to the Big Store and made your selections.

On the Grand Avenue floor is where you'll find the choicest lot of Black Silks that will be shown in Kansas City this season.

There you'll find everything new and original that will be popular in Black Silks.

Here we quote only a few names and prices:

- Black Satin Rhodane worth $1.50 for 78c
Black Satin Rhodane worth $1.75 for 98c

WAS HE MURDERED? A Boston Man Starts to Contest His Father's Will; But Does Not Show Up.

BOSTON, March 7.—The strange disappearance of a wealthy Boston business man has just looked out and brings to light a peculiar story.

On the 11th of September, Alfred L. Oxnard, manager of the Collection and Mercantile Agency at No. 19 School street, and residing in Melrose, left Portland and went to Melrose to contest his father's will, which gave $50,000 worth of property to his brother John and left him nothing.

He never reached Portland, or reported to the knowledge of Boston parties. The day after he was supposed to have left he never even showed up at the office.

The will was probated without contest, and the property turned over to the brother. Oxnard made money in speculation here, and it is claimed that his close attention to business at times affected him mentally.

His business was in good shape when he went away, and the only thing missing among his papers is a deed to some land in Georgia. His relatives have not time to say about the matter and offer no explanation.

Mrs. Oxnard, in an interview, said she could find no trace of her son. If she did not know where he had gone, she said, but later she admitted she did not know where he is now. By some it is believed that the man (supposed murdered at Georgetown) is he and the matter is now being investigated.

Reported Still Alive. PORTLAND, Me., April 7.—Alfred Oxnard, who was supposed by Boston lawyers to have been the man found murdered in a brook at Georgetown, Mass., was seen in this city within two weeks, and is reported to be in this state at the present time by parties claiming to know whereof they speak.

IN EXECUTIVE SESSION. Senate Debates the Seigniorage Bill But is Unable to Pass It.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—After the seigniorage bill had been taken up in the senate today, Mr. Hoar, in the interest of delay, moved to adjourn.

This being lost, Senators Merrill and Sherman spoke in opposition to the bill. Senator Allison also opposed the bill, and offered a motion to reconsider the motion, by which a passed the third reading. This was not pressed.

Senator Quay asked to have the bill go over. This was refused, and he left at 3:45, moved to go into executive session, which was carried.

The senate then adjourned. The passage of the seigniorage bill to back the tariff bill, seems to have collapsed. If it had not been for the dilatory motions, the bill would have passed this afternoon. It does not appear now that debate upon it can last very long, and it is believed that it will be out of the way long before the tariff gets into the senate.

DONJAN BEGS PARDON.

Writes a Letter to Cleveland Asking for Mercy.

BALTIMORE, March 7.—Joseph Donjan, who was sentenced to eighteen months in the Maryland penitentiary for sending a threatening postal card to Vice President Stevenson, has written to President Cleveland asking for pardon as follows:

"Begging pardon for addressing you, but I feel as only as one who innocently ran foul. The old question ever again, why if John Sherman is innocent, did he not appear against me, or why was I not tried before the senate? Now for justice's sake read over letters written by me to the different senators, also to yourself, and say if I was not willing to prove with legal evidence anything that looked like a charge."

"I say now, cursed be the hour when I called myself in such service. I say, cursed be my own brains for having thought myself more intelligent than the thought of the population of the United States, and say, devil in I leave for many Crokers, Sugarman, etc. to move this country, when intelligence is a worse crime than stealing a million."

"Will I also find an obliging president that will let me off when I tumble and degrade myself, so that I am willing to swear that I shall try to serve this God, forsaken, and cursed society—blessed country of liberty. I promise to never write in a newspaper, nor will I otherwise bring myself in the foreground, unless it is to serve my own interest without disturbing other people. Liberty is health to me; confinement will become my destruction. I ask mercy."

OVER NIAGARA FALLS. A Woman's Apparently Lifeless Body Found on the Edge of Ice.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 7.—Two painters working on an elevated platform at the river side of the old Col. Porter homestead, which overlooks the river and American rapids, were attracted by loud demonstrations of a flock of ducks which hovered over a cake of ice floating rapidly down stream.

On the ice the painters say they distinctly saw the apparently lifeless body of a woman. They watched the cake of ice and its ghastly burden until the rapid ice was reached, at which point the ice went to pieces and the body disappeared from view.

At the same time the ducks descended and circled the body as if they were little children of the body being recovered owing to the ice bridge under which it would pass after going over the falls and would then disappear into the whirlpool.

CUTTING OFF PENSIONS. The Work of Reduction in a Systematic Way Begins Today.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Hereafter all notices of reduction of pensions will be sent to pensioners by registered letters. This plan has been adopted by Commissioner Lochren, and necessary arrangements have been made with the post office department.

The first batch of these will be sent out this morning. No notices have been sent out during the past three days pending the receipt of instructions as to the post office, but the accumulation will be disposed of by Thursday evening.

The number mailed today and Thursday will probably aggregate 800, but after that they will range from between 125 and 150.

It was stated at the bureau yesterday that a margin of nine or ten days in addition to the required thirty days from time of notice, in which additional evidence could be filed, would undoubtedly be allowed. Further time will be given if asked for by the pensioner.

SOLD HIS WIFE'S CLOTHES. Man Whose Family Was Murdered Turns Their Garments Over to a Museum.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 7.—Representatives of a New York museum visited Franklin park yesterday to acquire the bed-room effects in the home of Moore Baker, where his wife and child were murdered by William Thompson and Henry Baker, alias Pierson, who were in turn killed by the frenzied kinsman.

Mr. Baker, without any show of feeling, took down the bed and outfit, rolled up the bed clothes and his wife's night dress and turned over all the articles, together with the axe and shotgun, to the museum representatives.

He was paid a round sum for the effects. Baker is intended burning the things, but was prevented upon not to do so. The scene of the tragedy will be represented by figures in wax.

SOCIALISM IN BOSTON. Four Americans Appear to Be Leading the Agitation There.

BOSTON, Mass., March 7.—Several thousand people assembled on Boston Common yesterday afternoon, in response to an appeal from the leaders of the unemployed. Morrison I. Swift was the chairman, and speakers were named by David Taylor, Herbert N. Carson, Mrs. Merrifield and Swift.

Every speaker advocated the principles of state socialism. Resolutions were adopted stating that the relief committee of Boston had failed in its work, because of their being no representative workers on the committee. After thanking the relief committee for what it had done, however, the resolutions went on to state that the unemployed would not tolerate charity, but required loans and useful work.

LATEST

HAWAII'S NEW SCHEME.

A Plan for a Representative Form of Government on Foot.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The president today sent to congress the report that Mr. Dole will prepare a new constitution and says that a spirited contest is now in progress looking to the introduction of "the representative" system in the councils of the provisional government and the enactment of a law increasing the membership of the advisory council from 11 to 25, the new members to be elected by the suffrages of loyal citizens in a manner to be hereafter provided.

The reasons for the demand are that the council is not now representative; that the legislative department is too compact and small; that it has become made objectionable by the action of retiring members in practically selecting their own successors, and that in these changes the mass of the supporters of the provisional government have had no voice.

The latest letter says a committee has been appointed by the president to prepare an act for the holding of the constitutional convention.

JUMPING ON TO KANSAS. Congressman Talks About "Campaigning Pension Agents" of Kansas.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—T. J. Hudson (Dem., Kansas), who opened the debate on the pension appropriation bill today, criticized the conduct of the pension office, both under the old and the new administration.

He was drawn into a lively altercation with some of the Republican colleagues from Kansas over the campaigning tours of pension agents of the state.

In Kansas, he said, there were forty thousand pensioners, receiving on an average of $100, while in Massachusetts there were 100,000, receiving an average of $180 per annum.

"Do you think the Massachusetts soldiers receive too much?" interjected Mr. Walker.

"Let me tell the gentleman that Massachusetts has paid her soldiers $25,000, in addition to all that has received from the general government."

CABLE TO AUSTRIA. Great Interest Felt in the Proposition Which Unites It With Asia.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Much interest was expressed at the capital today concerning the news from Australia, that the authorities there are striving to secure cable connection with the United States. The importance of this has been emphasized by occurrences of the past year in the Hawaiian islands.

There is now a proposition before congress looking to the establishment of such a line, but Senator Morgan, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, said he had no doubt this government would be willing to co-operate with the Australian authorities in an effort in this direction.

He said further: "I expect to see the Pacific ocean bisected with a cable. A line has been surveyed from our western coast to Hawaii, and has been found to be perfectly feasible and there is little doubt that the conditions beyond are likewise good. A cable such as is proposed would be of great advantage to our commerce. We ought to see to it immediately to control the business of the Pacific and if we would take the proper steps we would secure the rapidly increasing trade of India and China, as well as that of the Pacific islands."

GET GOOD DIGESTION.

Paine's Celery Compound the Greatest of Remedies.

Influence of the Nerves on Various Diseases—The Way Frank Bair of Chicago Regained His Health—Prof. Phelps' Wonderful Prescription.

Increased cares and duties, increase in mental strain, lessened physical labor and increased mental work, have been gradually giving us bodies in which the nervous element predominates.

Diseases are today as different from diseases of a century ago as is their treatment. While the average individual now does more mental work, we are not so well able to bear the strain as they were.

Nine-tenths of us neither eat, sleep, exercise, bathe, or recreate ourselves in a proper way. It is all hurry and turmoil. Little rest and much care.

When the albumen and fibre of the blood—the nutritious principles of the food—become deficient in their relative proportions to the other parts of the blood, the health suffers. If nervous power be depressed, then the food is imperfectly digested, assimilated, and converted into blood and tissue.

There is the cause in a nutshell of half the diseases and illness in the world. Live in the cure—the greatest medical discovery of modern times—the remedy first prescribed by the greatest physician of this age, Prof. Edward Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college—the remedy that has made more people well than any other ever known—the trust food for the nerves—the best known strengthening of impoverished blood—the remedy that from one end of the country to the other, and in Europe as well, is endorsed by physicians, prescribed and used by them, recommended by the plain people, unequivocally endorsed by men and women of wide reputation, blessed by thousands—Paine's celery compound.

Try it. Any druggist has it or will get it for you.

After having used a few bottles of Paine's celery compound I am feeling better than I have in all my life." Try it.
